SOLDIER'S WIFE IS HOME AGAIN

Marjorie Buchan Fisk Returns From Eastern Army Camp Where She Bade Husband Goodbye.

After a visit of six weeks in Illinois and Indiana where she went to say farewell to her husband, prior to his departure for France, Mrs. Arthur Fisk has returned to Sonoma. While the parting with her dear one was hard to bear, the young wife was delighted with her trip and her glimpse of army life as seen in two big army camps, Camp Grant, Illinois and Fort Benjamin Harrison Indiana.

She arrived in Rockford, Illinois in a thunder shower and after some delay and anxiety found her soldier husband awaiting her. Became under difficulties and under guard as his company was under orders to leave Camp Grant the following day for Indianapolis and orders were strictly enforced, after escorting her to a hotel he went bach to camp with his guard and the brave little girl determined to follow the troop train the next day on the journey to Fort Harrison. Before leaving Illinois she was introduced by courtesyof the Knights of Columbus secretary to another California girl married to an engineer, Mrs Clara Gilmore Walters. The two wives made plans to accompany their husbands and after seeing them off on the troop train followed on another train arriving in Indianapolis two hours after the soldiers and taking apartments together.

When his Company arrived in Indiana, Mr. Fisk succeeded in getting a five day furlough and the young couple were enabled to go around the city and had a splendid visit and insight into the war work of the busy Indiana capitol. They heard Theodore Roosevelt's great speech on W. S. S. and also Vice President Marshal. The viewed the remains of iVce President Fairbanks lying in state in the capitol building there. Indianapolis had many original and splendid plans to awaken enthusiasm in War Savings. Among them a great replica of the battleship Indiana a mammoth Cash register built on the streets and a great glass War Chest in which wage earners deposited money to the amount of $2,624,617. Mrs. Fisk was deeply impressed with the great earnestness and fine spirit of the people there and also recalled several compelling war saving posters ,among them one which said "Workingmen Give One Day To Our Boys. They Give Thirty One," She saw many French soldiers over here on leave to boost Liberty Bonds and aid in the Red Cross Drive. "The Blue Devils" were affectionately greeted everywhere.

While at Fort Harrison one day Mrs. Fisk attended the wedding of three soldiers, Privates Fogarty of California, Murphy of California, and Hatfield of Minnesota. They married three sisters named Culley Indianapolis girls.

On the14th of June Arthur Fisk entrained for Camp Upton New York, and may even now be enroute to France. The young soldier is an experienced railroad man and in his company all are volunteers and fine specimens of young patriots. He will be given an engine to run immediately upon his arrival over there. Mrs. Fisk promises to furnish Sonoma girls the possibility of a romantic correspondence if they will write to a young man in her husband's company who is desperately lonely. He is a model young man but has no folks and longs for the comforts a good letter can afford him whether from grandmother, mother or just a girl who wants to cheer up a 22 year old Missouri soldier boy, 6 feet tall in his stocking feet and 100 per cent fighting stock. His address is Private Exter Howell Co. C 60th Engineer American Expeditionary Force via New York.

SONOMA BOY'S TRIP TO CAMP

Henry Weber Jr. Writes Interestingly Of Journey to Camp Kearney.

Henry Weber Jr., former bookkeeper at the Sonoma Valley Bank who left on the 28th for Camp Kearney, has written an interesting account of his trip to his friend Judge Small. The letter follows:

Camp Kearney, Cal.,
June 30, 1918.

Dear Les:

We arrived after some trip. Some trip is right. We left Santa Rosa at 9:15. There sure was some crowd at the station, most all the women and girls were "bawling" and three women fainted just as the train pulled out and they had to be dragged out of the crowd. It sure was a sight. All the way down the fellows were yelling at everybody and all of us were hanging out of the windows.

Factory sirens blew as the train pulled by and all the employees were standing outside and waved to the bunch. There were nine cars when we left Santa Rosa, but when we got over to Oakland, there were a lot of other boys from other counties who were waiting for us. We had fifteen cars full when we got down to camp. The bunch I was with was sure jolly and we did nothing but laugh and sing all the time. We had breakfast and supper at the Campi in Santa Rosa and when we got to S. F. it was 11:30 Dutch Andrieux was there to see the bunch. At noon we went to the Terminal and had dinner, then we had four hours before leaving for Oakland. I bumped around for a while and then went to see Ted Whitlow. He has a baby boy, born Wednesday, it weighed 8 1-2 lbs. Stewart was drafted and sent to Vancouver to cut spruce.

Well we left Oakland about 5 o'clock and went straight through. We only stopped when necessary for water etc., and at some of the principal places. We got into Los Banos at 9:30. There was a big crowd waiting for us and when the train pulled in machines pulled up to the station from all over. Girls shook hands with most of the fellows, but we only stopped about five minutes. The trip down was rather warm, especially through the San Joaquin valley. For miles and miles all one could see was grain fields, most of them cut and threshed. We got into Fresno at 11 There was an immense crowd there. They had a sort of a patriotic parade just as the train pulled in. We stayed in Fresno for a half hour and all got out. The girls would come up to us and say "Ah! there he is" and they would give him a kiss and shake hands. I got all I wanted, about 12 or 15, which was doing pretty good, don't you think?

It was just daybreak when we started to cross the mountains. It sure was pretty as the train wound around the edge of steep cliffs and one would look down four or five hundred feet into a canyon. We got to a small place called "Oasis" just on the edge of the desert. It was about 9 o'clock when we started across the desert and believe me it was some hot. We rode all morning until about 1 o'clock when we hit Los Angeles. There was nothing to see but sand and cactus on the desert with the exception of a house or two and a patch of alfalfa. How they ever made it grow, God only knows. Well we got into Los Angeles at 1 o'clock and had two hours there, until all the boys had dinner.

We pulled out of there about 3 and one of our bunch got left. His name is McIntire I think and he is an undertaker. Today he is doing K. P. the poor nut. It cost him $4.25 to get to camp from Los Angeles. Coming down from L. A. to camp I was with three other fellows from Yolo and believe me they were full of pep The whole way down we did nothing but sing and laugh, I laughed so much I had a belly-ache.

It was very pretty from L. A. to San Diego, all orange groves and walnut orchards. When we got to San Diego, military police got on and searched all the fellows and went

Sonoma Flies Service Flag For Boys Gone to War

Fourth of July Fittingly Observed By Citizens Of This Community 117 Boys In Army and Navy Honored.

Under the auspices of the Community War Council, the citizens of Sonoma observed the Fourth of July by raising a flag over the city hall in honor of the 117 boys gone to war from this community and surrounding valley.

The exercises were held at 11 a.m. in the historic plaza and were most impressive. Owing to the short time given to the committee of arrangements, and circumstances over which it had no control, the handsome satin banner with its 117 stars was not presented for dedication on this occasion, but a service flag with the numerals, 117 was raised instead and the beautiful banner made possible by generous public subscription, will later grace the interior of the city hall.

The State Home Band, always prompt in response to requests from Sonoma for assistance on such occasions, came down from Eldridge and played patriotic music both before and during the hour of the ceremonies.

Frederick T. Duhring was acting chairman of the day and after a few appropriate remarks, introduced Rev. Henry W. Waltz who gave the invocation, asking blessings and divine benificence on our flag, our country, our people and our boys gone to war.

Alfred Jansen, of Angel Island one of our khaki clad soldiers was here in response to an invitation from the committee and sang Oley Speak's "When The Boys Come Home" the words of which were written by Secretary John Hay during the Civil war and are still fraught with meaning. The singer was given a hearty ovation and his beautiful bass solo won rounds of applause.

Mr. Duhring then spoke of Sonoma's desire to honor its brave young men gone to war and prefaced the raising of the flag with eloquent remarks on the significance of the event in the community. He paid tribute to the maker of the flag, Mrs. D. Hatton and her assistants. With old Glory above it the proud service flag with its white field and the blue star indicative of the 117 Sonoma boys in our national army was raised over the city hall and as the band played and the crowd applauded, it was unfurled to the breeze and flew proudly while the formality of the presentation was going on and Mayor Dal Poggetto accepted it in the name of the city of Sonoma.

The chairman then introduced the Hon. James M. Oliver of San Francisco who in a masterly oration complimented Sonoma on its 117 stars and paid glowing tribute to the flag under whose starry folds our boys have gone forth to war. His address was also a review of the principles underlying our participation in the great battle for democracy and the ringing applause from his auditors was testimonial of the appreciation of the fine points made by the gifted speaker.

Mr. Oliver declared that the war was the last stand twixt the divine right of kings and democracy. He showed how a stand of neutrality was impossible for a flag such as ours and prayed that it might ever stand foremost in such crisis in the battle for justice and protection of all peoples. He praised the boys gone over seas to uphold the magnificient principles upon which this nation was founded and arranged the various types of pacifists and objectors who stood in the way of this country's bringing the war to honorable termination and guaranteeing an abiding and permanent peace.

At the conclusion of his masterful address, Mr. Oliver was greeted with prolonged applause and many of his audience grasped his hand in appreciation of his forceful words and the beautiful sentiment embodied in his Fourth of July address.

The band played in conclusion and thus ended Sonoma's proud day.

SHERIFF SMITH OUT OF RACE

Present Incumbent Will Not Run For Office Again This Election.

Sheriff Jack Smith has decided to retire from the political arena after serving Sonoma County for twelve years and will henceforth devote himself to valuable farming interests in Sacramento County.

The contest for Sheriff looked to be a three cornered fight-Smith, Joe Ryan and James Petray but has narrowered down to Ryan and Petray with the announcement of Smith's decision not to run. Smith was elected last election by a narrow margin over popular Joe Ryan Sonoma's favored son who will no doubt be elected this time by a handsome majority.

SONOMA SOLDIER BOYS MEET "OVER THERE"

Newton Dal Poggetto and Arthur Drake, two Sonoma boys, have met in France where they are both near each other doing service with Uncle Sam's army. The meeting of the two former friends was a joyous one.

Newton writes to his folks here that the bunch he is with have captured two villages and that while the Americans do not take the offensive, they are always ready when the enemy attacks and then they sure let them have it. He predicts that the war will be over and that the boys will be back by Christmas.

This is also the opinion of a Healdsburg boy of whose prediction the Healdsburg Tribune of this week says: "A letter from Herbert Byers, who is stationed at Winchester, England has been received by his father, A. W. Byers, in which the young man states that the war cannot last much longer. He goes on to say that if the people in this country knew the conditions "over there" they would be of the same opinion."

Mrs. C. C. Champlin (nee Maude Frazier) and son were in town Tuesday. Mrs. Champlin is a candidate for the vacancy in the history department of the High School.

A Great and Glorious Fourth of July

THE NATION'S birthday, long refered to in the familiar colloquial ism as "the great and glorious Fourth of July" has never before, perhaps meant so much to Americans, for e'en when the nation was in its cradle and democracy was born of that fine spirit toward all the world which it has ever demonstrated, there was not the 90,000,000 peoples of all lands, claiming the United States as their own. Our growth and the amalgamation of all races into the United States have proven the broad purposeful destiny of the nation which now champions the cause of the great powers ruthless autocracy would strike down.

What a proud day, when the United States achieved the recognition her honorable course merited. What a fine spirit when war obliterated all the traditional feeling of antagonism and strife and the Stars and Stripes floated side by side with the Union Jack over the British house of parliment!

The Fourth of July has a broader, a finer, more ideal significance than it ever had before. Proud as we have been of our achievments, our development, our prestage in the world, no past patriotism has ever so richly been merited as that which we feel today. Our sons are fighting for worldwide democracy, side by side with the oldest, greatest and noblest peoples of the earth—making war against a common enemy whose barbarity has shamed barbarians in ingenious and camouflaged deviltries which they dub kultur.

Proud are we of Pershing's crusaders, stalwart American leadership, at the head of as fine an Army in every sense as was ever raised by a nation at war. All praise to the flag under which they strive for victory with honor and world redress. May peace come when the United States has done its full part to achieve it for we can play no nobler part.

TO A WHITE HYACINTH

Beautiful, beautiful sweet scented flow'r!
Breathing rich fragrance on each passing hour,
Thy pearly bell-blossoms whisper to me,
That which none other may dream of or see;
There are so many, and oh! how they chime—
To music of gladness—to love—tales of rhyme;
The depths of their soul I will woo to me,
I will hear the things which they hear and see.

This is the joy-bell! it rang for a bride
Winsome and fair in her innocent pride;
And these are the maideas so dainty and sweet,
Who brought other blossoms to drop at her feet.
And these are the days when love pure as thou,
Chastened and holy encircled her brow;
The light of its glamor dispelled every care,
And life held no trace of sorrow or fear.

These are the hopes that bloomed for awhile,
In the light and love of a baby's smile;
And these are the tears the dew-drops wept,
Over the bier where the first-born slept.
And here are the years that swiftly passed by,
Here flames the sunshine, and here lurks a sigh;
But these pensive bells hanging side by side,
Were drooping, and listless, the night she died.

Here are the angels whose song from afar,
Fell soft on the ear where the gates are ajar;
Nearer and nearer, the music's sweet roll
Floated to greet the heaven-born soul;
A maid who was robed in sun-light rays,
Came swiftly forward to meet her gaze;
Dear mother! I welcome you home, she said,
I am your first-born whom you thought dead.

There never was such glad surprise,
As that which gleamed in the mother's eyes;
Oh God is good! she fervently cried,
I mourned you dead, but you never died!
And now sweet blossom the story is told,
You whispered to me from your heart of gold,
You did not say that I might not tell
The mysteries that within you dwell.

God gave you a soul I think to say,
How tender and loving His care each day;
He breathed in each bloom a breath of His love,
That pilgrims might catch the strains from above.

Elizabeth M. Campbell,
Sonoma West.

RED CROSS NOTES

The Military Relief Committee of the local Branch of the Red Cross were much enthused last Friday afternoon by a visit at workroom in the City Hall, from Mrs. Scott and Miss Pauline Hahmann, two officials of the Chapter in Santa Rosa. In addition to the regular afternoon workers, Chairman Mrs. G. H. Hotz had asked all supervisors from both Sonoma and Boyes Springs to be present. Many genuinely "knotty" problems as to both knitting and sewing were discussed; and after being refreshed with cups of tea, the inspectors departed, promising that in future these helpful visits shall be frequent.

The local Branch was deeply sorry at receiving last Friday evening, the resignation of Mrs. James McElney as treasurer of both the Sonoma Branch and the Junior Auxilliary. Mr. Ralph Hotz was unanimously chosen to take the office.

SELLING FORDS AND DELIVERING THE GOODS TOO

The popular firm, Busby & Coates which has the Ford agency here have sold and delivered several cars the past week. Among the new buyers of the dependable machines are Mrs. Carl Dresel, Julius E. Poppe, Joe Garoni of Eagle Nest, Agua Caliente and Harry V. Coops. The attractive advertising of Ford Cars in the Index-Tribune has been bringing results right along. All the buyers are subscribers of this newspaper.

MILLERICKS STRING OF HORSES AT SAN JOSE FOR FOURTH

Said the San Jose Mercury Herald of Monday: "Fifteen bucking horses owned by Tom Millerick of Schellville, Sonoma county, including the famous "Coyote," equine outlaw who has only been ridden successfully once in nine years and that time at last year's California Roundup, will be among the 100 bucking horses which will be seen at the big celebration to be staged at Round-up park on July 4, 5, 6 and 7. Arrangements have been completed with Millerick for bringing "Coyote" and his entire string of bucking horses to the round up. The herd also will include such well-known buckers as "Gray Bob" "Billy Sunday", "Glass Eye", and "Liberty Bond", the latter a newcomer in "outlaw" circles and declared by Millerick to be second only to "Coyote" as a difficult horse to ride.

The securing of "Coyote" and other Millerick horses for the four day roundup program not only means that hundreds of spectators will be attracted to Roundup park by their desire to see the famous outlaw in action, but it also means that only the best broncho riders in the west will have a chance to compete in the finals, for the entire herd of buckers from the Millerick ranch, which will be brought here along with "Coyote", will furnish acid tests for every bucking horse rider who enters the Roundup contests.

The only time that "Coyote" has ever been ridden was at last year's California Roundup when Phil Stadler, a vaquero from San Ramon, California, conquered him. The arena at that time, however, was thickly coated with sawdust, and it was the claim of Tom Millerick that "Coyote" would have thrown Stadler just as he has thrown every other man who has ever tried to ride him, had he not slipped and floundered upon the slippery sawdust footing afforded him.

Says "Coyote" Can't Be Ridden

"I am willing to wager anywhere from $100 to $1000 that 'Coyote' will not be ridden successfully by Stadtler or anybody else at this year's Roundup" declares Millerick. "He has been bucking for nine years without finding a rider that could stay on his back as long as 30 seconds—until he was ridden by Stadtler. He has thrown the best riders in the country and I don't believe there is a man living who can stay on his back for 60 seconds on hard, even ground. He is in fine condition and in a few tryouts which we have given him up on the ranch, this spring he has shown that he is bucking harder and faster than ever and that he also has learned several new tricks. In fact, I doubt if 'Happy Jack' Hawn, Jackson Sundown, 'Johnny" Strickland, Tim Sullivan, 'Wild Horse' Hill or any of the other champion riders who are to take part in this year's Roundup will be able to stay on his back for more than six seconds."

Tom Millerick is also bringing with him a string of fast cow ponies for the relay races, together with about 15 riders from his Sonoma county ranch, who will take part in the various contests on the program."

Mr. and Mrs. Ted Whitlow (nee Dorothy Macfarlane) are parents of a bouncing baby boy, born last week in San Francisco.

SPRAY LATE APPLES NOW

A light crop of late apples in invariably accompanied by a heavy crop of Codling Moth. The reason is obvious. The same number of worms distributed among one-third the number of apples means three times the percentage of apples containing worms.

It is evident to every grower of late apples that we are confronting such a condition this year, and an extra effort must be made if we are to maintain the standard of our fruit. The first generation of worms is now leaving the apples; the second generation will hatch and enter the apples during July (the time varying with the relative earliness of the district). It is safe to say a spray applied between the 10th and 15th of the month of July will prove effective

In applying this spray, care must be given to covering the apples evenly with the Arsenate of Lead, as the worms enter mostly from the side, particularly where two apples touch, or a leaf or limb comes in contact with the fruit. They may also enter by the stem or blossom end. If a spreader is used the Arsenate of Lead is given a more even distribution over the surface and is prevented from producing the concentrated cakes of material. The best spreader we have used is a commercial flour paste, manufactured by the Robinson Chemical Co., San Francisco. Next to this is dry glue.

Use 6 lbs. of Flour Paste to each 100 gals. of water. If glue is used dissolve ¼ lb. dry flake glue to each 100 gals. water.

Use Arsenate of Lead at the rate of 2 lbs. dry, or 4 lbs. paste, to the 100 gals. water.

Sulphur Paste may also be used in combination with the spray if mildew or red spider is present. The formula for making sulphur paste is as follows:- Mix 5 lbs. of fine dusting sulphur with 1 oz. dry glue dissolved in 1 gal. of water. Pour glue water into sulphur slowly as it is stirred.

WONDERFUL COLOR PICTURES AT BOYES

Leon Douglass' Natural Color Films To Be Shown Soon at Theatre.

Motion pictures which re-produce even the natural colors of everything they depict, is the invention of Leon Douglas of San Rafael who will demonstrate the wonderful effect of the process at Boyes Springs theatre next Saturday night, July 13. These moving pictures have revolutionized the art of the screen and are said to be not only wonderful, but truly beautiful. Said the Examiner after an exhibition in San Francisco: "The flaming red of the rose and the delicate pink that lies along the cheek of a woman have at last been caught by the movie camera. Leon F. Douglass demonstrated that colored photography, so long sought in vain, has finally been perfected. The demonstration was, in the opinion of many persons present, an epochal event at which a new wonder was given to the world. Artists, poets, judges, professional men and women and others were present."

Thos. P. Boyd who went East in the interest of the new discovery, had the following to say in an interview there: "Mr. Douglas for many years devoted his time to inventing processes which would bring superior tone qualities to the talking machine, and it was due in part to his efforts that the Victrola has been brought to the high standard of excellence as a sound producer which it enjoys today. Having mastered the laws of sound, he took up at San Rafael, the problem of reproducing pictures in their natural colors, and for many years made a most exhaustive experiment to develop a theory which he had formulated when he first began this work.

"The process is not only practicable, but is comparatively inexpensive. By means of a small and not costly device that may be attached to any motion picture camera, several color values of the image photographed are given to the negative, from which positive films are printed by a chemical process which I am not at liberty at this time to divulge.

" The effects obtained are marvelously true to nature. The range of tint and hues unlimited. The presence of grays and neutral tints which are always present in nature, and which soften and tone down the harsh colors, are plentiful in these pictures. Thus, in addition to showing the vivid colors, all of the delicate shades and hues of flesh tints, of clothing and draperies, of gradually changing sky tints of sunrise and sunset are reproduced with magical subtility.

"The art of producing motion pictures of great brilliancy, showing every slight difference of the various shades of color, has been accomplished." Admission to this picture will be 25 cents, plus the war tax.

BENEFIT FOR ENGINE AT BOYES SUCCESS

Little Red Devil Day a Big Day and Proceeds Very Gratifying So Our Correspondent Writes.

(By one of the Boyes)

Last Sunday surely was one big day at Boyes Springs and will long be remembered by the people of the valley. It was the day of the Monster benefit for the Boyes Springs Fire Department and what a mass of people turned out to attend both of the performances, afternoon and evening. Everyone that came went away more than pleased for both of the events were carried out to the satisfaction of all. Not a hitch or delay on either occasion. The afternoon program consisted of a baseball game between the Sonoma City firemen and the Boyes Springs firemen and was won by Sonoma. The score was 11 to 9. It was an exciting game and kept the audience at a fever heat and spellbound until the last man had been retired. After that came a potato race for boys, there were six entries, it was indeed laughable to see the boys running back and forth putting the potatoes in the box. One of the boys got so excited that he dropped one of the potatoes in "Jap" Valente's shoe, thinking it was the box. This race was won by "Spud" Flanagan.

The next event was a blackberry pie eating contest between eight boys It would be useless to contradict that there were a lot of "piefaces" around after the contest. The winner of this contest was "Pie Face" Galiardo. Then came the egg race, (originally intended for girls, but the girls were bashful so the boys were at it again) needless to say, many of the hen fruit were spilled before the start. Six boys started and only two finished. This event was won by little Jimmie Acquistapace, he having been given a handicap of 40 feet. Next was a cow boy race with three entries. The race was won by Master George Keifer, the boy wonder of Sonoma Valley, Angelo Safrani second and Louis Zelda third. After this Master Keifer gave an exhibition of "Bull" riding for which he received great applause. Next in line was "Little" Jimmy Kehoe in trick and fancy riding, this was a masterpiece of horsemanship and was well received. Angelo Safrani also favored with some fancy and trick riding. After this came Joe Ryan, (of course our next sheriff) with his pacer, Jim Chase, vs Steve (the Gag's) big Chalmers car, this race was declared a draw as the finish was so close that the judges could not separate them but the "Gag" separated one of Joe's sulky wheels from the sulky during the race. Then came the big event of the day, a demonstration of the fire department. A building was filled with inflammable material, then was well saturated with coal oil and had a big headway when the fire bell was rung at Boyes clubhouse, calling out the little "Red Devil". The engine made the run from the enginehouse to the fire in just one minute and forty-six seconds and had the chemical on the fire in two minutes and three seconds. The hose was also put into quick action, having a stream of water on the fire in less than four minutes. Within ten minutes from the toll of the bell, the 'Fire out' cry was given by Fire Chief Wm. Gowan. Some quick work, was it not? No wonder the people of Boyes Springs are so proud of their little "Red Devil".

This concluded a wonderful afternoon's performance and all who were there were well pleased and some are still wondering how it was all done, in such a perfect and agreeable manner.

The evening performance at Boyes theatre consisted of a Paramount picture, vaudeville and dance. The first number on the program was little seven year old Miss Wolf who entertained with two splendid dances. the first being in Spanish costume and the other in Colonial costume. She received tremendous and well deserved applause. Next on the program was Mrs. Walker of Boyes who gave a magnificient recitation entitled "Mother Goose", Mrs. Walker is certainly a master hand at reciting and had the audience spellbound and one could have heard a pin drop during the time she was on the stage.

Robt. Madison (assemblyman from this district) was the next to favor in the mystic art of sleight of hand as he performed some wonderful tricks with a deck of cards. Herrman the Great had nothing on Mr. Madison for "Humbugism".

Last, but not least to favor with songs was our next County Auditor, Mr. Olney Pedigo; he sang "Where the River Shannon Flows", which was so well received that he sang for an encore, "Silver Threads Among the Gold. This was the finale of the vaudeville.

On with the dance was now the cry of the hundreds who had seen the picture and enjoyed the vaudeville, and how they all did enjoy the dancing with such "Jazz" music as was here on this occasion. Just think of it, Art Hickman, that peerless leader playing the drums, Steve Douglas and his fiddle, the fiddle that talks, and Frank Ellis, the only rival of Paderewski in America at the piano and Kennedy and Black with the banjos, all artists of worldwide fame and just to think, they all came here just to show how much they think of our little "Red Devil". As the "Red Devil" only fights fire and cannot speak, I will on behalf of the B. S. I. C. speak for it and say; Thank You, Gentlemen, for your kindness upon this occasion.

The whole affair was one grand success and suffice it to say that the little "Red Devil" went away "Over the Top". The B. S. I. C. entertainment committee thanks one and all, who so kindly offered their services and assisted upon this monster benefit and in particular wants to thank Miss Wolf, Mrs. Walker, Messrs Madison and Pedigo and the "Jazz" artists for the part they took in the theatre and also want to thank the baseball players, Millerick Bros., Jimmie Kehoe, Master George Kiefer Angelo Safrani, Louis Zelda and also the little "Bull" for their good work at the ball park.

Much credit is due to Mrs. Koenig, chairman of the ladies committee also to Mrs. Walker, Mrs. Parramore Mrs. and Miss Bergstrom, Mrs. J. Barber, Mrs. Gowan, the Ladies club of Sonoma and many others for the successful country bakery store and for the sale of tickets. Mrs. Koenig, Mrs. Walker and Mrs. Parramore worked hard, early and late and were rewarded by a successful benefit for our fire department. The B. S. I. C. thanks you ladies for your good work.

The entertainment committee of the B. S. I. C., Jas. Baines, F. W. Boynton, Mr. Minges, (our Mayor) E. L. Parramore and Wm. Gowan, deserve great credit for the efficient manner in which everything was carried out on last Sunday. More power to you all Gentlemen.

It is not often that one has the pleasure of mingling with a composer, but such was the case at Boyes theatre last Sunday when Art Hickman, was with us. It was he who composed the "Rose Room Fox-Trot" that many had the pleasure to dance to on last Sunday night.

Mr. C. A. A. McGee of San Diego, candidate for governor of this state at the next election, talked to a large crowd at Boyes theatre last Wednesday night. Boyes Springs is certainly on the map.

The sentiment of the people of Boyes Springs upon the benefit last Sunday. Thank you, Sonoma, Verano, Glen Ellen, Eldridge, in fact thanks to all in the Valley of the Moon for your kindness and liberal patronage for our little "Red Devil".

(You too George deserve great praise. We all take off our hats to the Cause of the success.)—The Editor.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Groskopf have been warmly greeted by their many friends during their sojourn of the past week. The young Sergeant looks fine and returned to Camp Lewis Wednesday.

Miss Thelma Berg, a charming girl from Alameda, is the guest of her aunt, Mrs. Dave Hatton.

POSTAGE STAMPS.

Romances of Some of the World's Rarest Issues.

THE "DEATH MASK" MYSTERY

Curious Case of the Servian Stamp Issued After the Murder of King Alexander and Queen Draga—The One Cent British Guiana Stamp of 1856.

Not a little of the fascination which the study and collecting of postage stamps holds for enthusiasts lies in the fact that the story of their origin and subsequent history is in many cases of an exceedingly romantic character.

The single known copy of the rarest stamp in the world, valued at $10,000—the one cent British Guiana issued in 1856—was discovered by a young collector in the colony among some old family papers stored away in an attic.

Knowing nothing of its scarcity and not being favorably impressed by its appearance, he sold it to another collector for a trifling sum, the purchaser being also ignorant of his great bargain. Ultimately it found its way to Europe and now reposes in the collection of M. Philippe de la Renotiere of Paris, who purchased it many years ago.

The value of $7,250 is placed upon the famous "Postoffice Mauritius" stamp, which was crudely engraved on a small copper plate by a local watchmaker of Port Louis and issued on Sept. 21, 1847. A total of only 500 copies of each of these stamps were tediously printed off one at a time from the plate, and the majority of these were used on invitations to a ball sent out by Lady Gomm, wife of the governor of the colony.

It was not until nearly twenty years after their issue that the first two copies of these rarities were brought to light by a young stamp collector of Bordeaux. The most perfect used copy of the 2d. Postoffice Mauritius was sold by auction in 1904, and is now included in King George's collection

To the story of the watchmaker who designed this stamp may be added that of the baker's boy who engraved a stamp of the republic of Corrientes, now forming part of the Argentine federation.

In 1855 it was decided by the authorities to issue stamps, but they could find no engraver to cut the die or prepare the plates. While one of the officials was discussing the situation with the head of the state printing office on his veranda one morning a baker's boy arrived with the daily supply of bread and, overhearing the conversation, volunteered to undertake the work, stating that before emigrating to South America he had been apprenticed to an engraver in Italy.

Ultimately the boy was given the work to do, and he turned out a stamp which, although crude, served for all the postage stamps issued in Corrientes from 1855 to 1880.

Probably few people are aware of the fact, by the way, that King George of Britain (then Prince of Wales) was responsible for the design of the 1903 postage stamps of Canada, universally acknowledge to be the most artistic stamps of the last reign. About the time of the late king's coronation the postmaster general of Canada, then on a visit to England, took the opportunity of consulting his royal highness on the subject of the proposed new issue of postage stamps for the Dominion.

The prince at once took the keenest interest in the work, designed the stamp in conjunction with a member of the Royal Philatelic society and superintended the preparation of the "master die" in England. The Edwardian stamps of Canada can therefore lay claim to the distinction of being designed by a king

A stamp around which centers one of the foulest political crimes of modern history is the so called "death mask stamp" of Servia, issued in 1904 to commemorate the accession of King Peter I. The dastardly assassination of King Alexander and his queen, Draga, by military officers on June 11, 1903, wiped out the Obrenovitch dynasty from the throne of Servia and paved the way for the present king.

After the tragedy one of the most famous of French stamp engravers was commissioned to prepare a stamp from a design by a Servian artist, showing on a single plaque the twin profiles of Kara George, the founder of the dynasty which bears his name, and King Peter, his descendant.

The stamps were issued at the time of King Peter's coronation, in 1904, and hardly had they got into circulation when it was discovered that the "death mask" of the late King Alexander had been skillfully and subtly introduced into the design and, on the stamp being inverted, could be plainly traced in the reversed features of the two heads.

This discovery at once caused an outcry, the stratagem being ascribed to ex-Queen Nathalie, mother of the murdered king, and her supporters, but all connivance in the plot was indignantly repudiated by the engraver, and the mystery of this extraordinary happening has never been satisfactorily cleared up.—London Strand.

No good book or good thing of any sort shows its best face at first.—Carlyle.

"Detectives" Theo Keiser and John Duhring ran in a roudy for being drunk and abusive on the streets last week. It was easy enough to get him in but ask the boys about getting him out.

Mrs. Joseph Vella has been visiting friends of Mr. Vella in San Francisco. The genial partner of the Sonoma Mission Creamery motored down over the last week end and Mrs. Vella returned home with him.

Miss Fannie Ferndale the president spoke in high terms of Mr. Ryan's services and faithfulness when he was Constable and Deputy Sheriff. Miss Minnie Madden, the prima donna of the clubrendered the following selection:

Joe Ryan is Our man. Get his opinion if you can Tell him all about your scraps
For he can fix up all mishaps
Joe is just as full of peace as a pork-chop is of grease
So don't delay on election day
And vote for the peaceful man.

—O—

At a trotting meet or a baseball game
Joe Ryan is just the same
Always with a smiling face and
He can always set the pace.
He is a man you cannot seare
For he was born without a "fear"
So dont delay on election day
All vote for this faithful man.

—O—

He is a Native Son, does the best he can
And can always land his man
His past is without a flaw
For he acts within the law
So don't delay on election day
All vote for this lawful man.

Manufacturers and leading motor car distributors recommend ZEROLENE. The majority of motorists use ZEROLENE. ZEROLENE reduces wear and gives more power because it keeps its lubricating body at cylinder heat. Gives less carbon because, being refined from selected California asphalt-base crude, it burns clean and goes out with exhaust.

Correct Lubrication for the "V"-Type Engine

This, the "V"-Type of automobile engine, like all internal combustion engines, requires an oil that holds its lubricating qualities at cylinder heat, burns clean in the combustion chambers and goes out with exhaust. through our suit cases. There was one fellow in the car in back of us who had a suit case full of poison. When the police were about to search him he threw the suit case out of the window and they had to stop the train and get it. When we got into camp, they immediately put him in the stockade. I don't know what they will do with him.

Well so far I think army life is fine, havent had much to do yet, but expect to make up for lost time next week.

The weather here has been cool and foggy in the mornings. The camp overlooks the ocean and we get a fine view.

There sure is a bunch of drafted men here and two or three trains full have been coming in daily.

I went to the Y. M. C. A. last Saturday and ran into Ed Peterson and his friend Francard, he used to play on the Kenwood ball team. We talked a long time and Ed was giving me some pointers. The camp is some size, 25 square miles. I took a squint at the parade ground. Standing at one end one can just barely see the other end. I expect to step her off soon, haw! haw! They have all kinds of amusements here. Across the parade grounds is "jazz town" They have two theatres there, each seating 2000 also bowling, pool and all sorts of other games, on the grounds they have booths where they sell bevo, grape juce, apple cider, etc. also a newspaper boy goes about the comp selling papers. There sure isn't a minute to get lonesome, something doing all the time.

About 3 o'clock this (Sunday) morning we had a thunder and lightening storm with some rain, just like that last one at Sonoma only ten times worse. Our tent just shook but it is nice out now.

Well Les I am sitting in my tent scribbling this on top of my grip and I have written almost a book. Remember me to the "Pansy" bunch and all your folks. With best wishes to yourself I am as ever, Henry.

My present address is, Provisional Company No. 18, Tent 18, Camp Kearney Linda Vista, Cal.

Two former popular teachers have resigned from nearby districts. Miss Dahlmann from Tule Vista and Miss Elizabeth Keller from San Luis. Miss Keller will be given a farewell at the Bennett home next Wednesday.

NOTICE

To The People of Sonoma Valley

The affort by petition to close up Fetters Springs with its big investment is not agitation to take away the license of this place alone but is simply the work of the "drys", making a start to put the whole valley in the bone dry class. "We have to make a start some where" they are quoted as saying and a reform wave and general clean-up was promised some weeks before my place was attacked.

Stop and figure out who locally is be hind this movement and watch developments and it will become very apparent that the drys have been getting in their work and will not stop at trying to take my license away, but will get every resort in the valley if the agitation is permitted to get headway here. Those responsible for this trouble not only seek to ruin my investment with its big hotel, theatre, club-house, baths and swimming tank but would put out of business every other place where liquor is sold just as readily.

Watch developments and read all press reports and you will be convinced that there is a concerted plot to make Sonoma Valley dry.

Take away the resorts and the good business they make for everyone here in Sonoma Valley and what would be left? If you value the prosperity of this section and are fair minded, do not be misled by these agitators. adv.
